ANNUAL REPORT
for the Year Ending June 30, 1961
for the
DIVISION OF IMMIGRATION AND AMERICANIZATION
of the
DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

The year which closed June 30, 1961 was the forty-first year of the work of the Division of Immigration and Americanization as a part of the State Department of Education. However, the State work for immigrants and those of foreign origin residents in the Commonwealth began in July, 1917 when the Bureau of Immigration was established so that for forty-four years the Commonwealth has had a particular interest in the foreign born within its borders.

The duties of the Division under the present law, Chapter 409 of the Acts of 1939 are as follows:

"The Division of Immigration and Americanization shall employ such methods consistent with law, as in its judgment, will tend to bring into sympathetic and mutually helpful relations the Commonwealth and its residents of foreign origin, protect immigrants from exploitation and abuse; stimulate their acquisition and mastery of English; develop their understanding of American government, institutions and ideals and generally promote their assimilation and naturalization".

The Division recorded 45,426 services to clients in the past year. Of this number, 27,703 were listed for the Boston Office; 3,834 for the Fall River Office; 4,342 for the Lawrence Office, 3,988 for Springfield and 5,559 for Worcester.

NATIONALITY AND ETHNIC BACKGROUND

The Italian born clients, of whom we recorded services of 9,164, were the greatest number served by the offices and this has been so for many years past. United States born persons with 5,947 were next because many United States born sponsor spouses, parents in petitions and many make affidavits of support for relatives abroad. Canadians with 5,179 were next and reflects the Canadian born population in this vicinity. Portuguese with 3,231 services, with the largest number serviced by our Fall River Office, shows the larger colony of Portuguese born persons still in that vicinity; Polish born clients, of whom we serviced 2,267; Irish, 2,274 and Greek born to the number of 2,068 were in the group of the higher number. It is interesting to note that reflection of the atmosphere of times when we have an increase in calls for services for persons in Central and South America, whom we have assisted in changing status. Because of the possibility of change of status, a number of Central and South American visitors were assisted to change to permanent residents.

ALIEN REGISTRATION

The 1961 Alien Registration shows that 129,082 aliens filed annual reports, an increase of some 2,000 over last year. No doubt, it reflects the 11,953 immigrants admitted to the State of Massachusetts in 1960. The total population of Massachusetts for the 1960 report is given as 5,148,578 - an increase of over 458,064 over the last report of 1950.

WORK OF THE DIVISION

Our services are divided into four major categories - giving information to inquirers generally on some phase of citizenship, immigration, travel or adjustment of the newcomer in the United States. New laws bring inquirers with hopes of relatives able to come to the United States. We account for 20,597 of our services in this category. The Division has assisted 10,494 clients in execution of the various forms necessary in application for citizenship, copies of lost naturalization records, alien registration cards, alien registration reports, as well as execution of necessary petitions required under the immigration procedure. 2,917 affidavits of support were executed for persons sending for persons to come to the United States. 86 persons traveled on Certificates of Identity which the Division executed since they were unable to get any other travel document.

Our workers translated some 1,619 documents needed in petitions to send for relatives and in cases of adjustment of status in the United States, as well as giving this service to several public and private social agencies. We assisted 470 persons to change status of which 219 of these required representation of our social workers at the hearing at the United States Immigration Service. The others were for Canadians or other persons who had to depart from the United States to get their visas. Much correspondence and detail is required in this procedure. The Boston Office had the majority of this phase of the work. 7,789 letters had to be written on cases. 3,060 new arrivals to the United States either wrote us or came in for information on various phases of assimilation to the United States.

WELCOMING THE NEWCOMER

This Division continues to send welcome letters to persons destined to this state from abroad. The letter of welcome informs the newcomer of the services of the offices to help him in becoming assimilated to life in the United States. Many of the replies request information about schools and educational opportunities, as well as information on citizenship and reunion of relatives from abroad. In the past year, it was noted that job opportunities for the newcomer were not as plentiful. Inquiries about employment opportunities were referred to the proper sources. Our offices had personal contact with some 3,060 newcomers in the past year for various types of assistance. Among the replies have been those from young ladies who had come to the United States as domestics under contract to employers. Some of these persons have mutually been dissatisfied. In several cases they had come as domestics and had been disappointed in some phase of the work, either not enough time off, or more lucrative positions are available so that fulfillment of contract, repayment of transportation costs, responsibility of sponsor who signed the affidavit of support are all matters of discussion and information. We sent letters to new arrivals as follows: from Boston 9,677; Fall River, 1,191; Lawrence, 442; Springfield, 791; Worcester 995.

CUBANS

The Cubans are the latest refugees to add to the list of persons coming to the United States to escape the conditions prevailing in Cuba. Of the 37,200 in the United States, some 25,682 are in Miami. It is estimated that in Massachusetts there are over 700. Several voluntary agencies have programs to assist families to settle in this vicinity. We have assisted a number of Cubans to adjust their status to that of permanent residents by the assistance in application for visas in Canada. Applications were made, necessary documents sent and appointments made so that it was possible for such persons to go to Canada, get immigrant visas and return to the United States for permanent residence. These were the persons who had come to the United States with valid passports and who had been on visitor or student status and who had necessary documents like birth record, marriage record, police clearance, etc. Now, since the closing of the Consulate in Cuba, many still in possession of passports procured before that time are anxious to join relatives in the United States. The Department of State has established a procedure in granting waivers of requirements to close relatives to prevent family separation. Our office has assisted some fifty persons in application for waivers. The Department of State grants the waiver of requirements of having the necessary papers for admission to the United States and notifies the several airlines and the Immigration Officials at Miami to permit entry of such persons to the United States. Difficulty is being experienced in getting necessary transportation to the United States but all is finally accomplished. These persons are then admitted on parole status and report to the United States Immigration Service periodically. There have been a number of family reunions in this manner.

In other cases where the Department of State has not deemed it in order to grant such waivers, our clients have arranged for the Cubans to enter Jamaica. We have assisted them in making the necessary affidavit of support and corresponded with the Consul there. A wait for visa to enter Jamaica has followed. Usually the relatives provide necessary expenses of living there and deposit some money in the bank for the prospective immigrant.

There are the many stories of loss of all property and business. An elderly Polish born couple, residents and citizens of Cuba for many years, with a well established business of long standing, came to this vicinity to a citizen daughter and were able to adjust status by application under Section 245 because of their birth place.

A Cuban lady with two children had joined her sister in this vicinity as visitors. When events made it impossible to return to Cuba and to her husband, her relatives made the necessary guarantee and we arranged for her to go to Canada to get visas for herself and children. Her husband was lucky to get to Jamaica. Correspondence with the Consul and execution of affidavits so that after three weeks stay in Jamaica the husband was able to get his visa. His letter on arrival to the United States which said: "I am one of the Cubans that never made a trip abroad. I always liked the Americans and the United States and thought often how it would be in America but never could I dream that it would be as beautiful and the people so nice and friendly as I have found it. I really never thought of leaving my country forever, but it was impossible to live under Communism and am ashamed of my fellow citizens that had fallen for the lies of the bear of Russia. I will never forget your help to make it possible for me to come to the United States. Without that help, me and my family could not be enjoying the liberty we enjoy today", is only one of the many attestations which come unsolicited to the office for service rendered.

Many Cubans have a good knowledge of English but for many it is a language handicap which will need to be overcome. Noticeably it has been a group of young persons coming from Cuba and, as usual, hopeful people hoping to return to their former homes. Persons with professions, as doctors, lawyers, etc., find it difficult, if not impossible, to get re-established in a new land. However, as long as there is tyranny, men will flee from it and refugees continue to come.

ASSISTANCE IN IMMIGRATION PROBLEMS

The quota law under the McCarran Act, although denounced by many immigration experts and agencies dealing with immigrants, still is in effect and has caused many family separations. Legislation was enacted in 1959 to assist family reunions, which was Public Law 86-363, permitted to enter, outside the quota, brothers and sisters on the list prior to December 31, 1953. Such persons could bring their spouses and minor children with them. Adult children were not permitted to come with their parents. The parents, on arrival in the United States had then to make the necessary petition and establish third preference category. In many cases, the wait for their turn in the quota was still many years. The Italian girl who had entered with her parents, in a few years returned to Italy and married her fiance hoping to have the husband come soon to the United States. It was indeed a hardship on return to find that the husband in this third preference category faced a wait of seven years or until the wife became a citizen of the United States in order to come to this country.

Persons in the second preference, as mothers and fathers, in certain countries like Greece, Turkey, West Indies, to choose a few, faced a long, long wait of many years in the quota.

In May 1961, the Department of State issued a bulletin with information of registrants waiting their turn to come to the United States and gave the total of 955,481 registrants waiting for visas under a possible 150,000 annual quota. The following charts are of interest:

I. Distribution of Registered Demand by Areas Area of Report Offices

February 1, 1961
Total Unqualified Demand

Europe	458,151
Near East	208,933
Western Hemisphere	109,795

Soviet Bloc Countries	56,722
Far East	35,991
Africa	13,186
Total	955,481

II. Distribution of Registered Demand by Preferences

The total unqualified registration of 955,481 includes the following:

First preference (skilled technicians)	7,120
Second preference (parents & unmarried sons and daughters of U. S. citizens)	6,056
Third preference (Spouses and unmarried sons and daughters of lawful permanent resident aliens)	10,055
Fourth preference (brothers, sisters and married sons and daughters of U. S. citizens)	155,099
Nonpreference (all other quota immigrants)	777,051
Total	955,481

In addition to the 7,120 first preference applicants applying for visas at consular offices abroad, there are 1,707 first preference applicants in the United States who are applying for adjustment of status under Section 245 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, as amended. This total does not include the spouses and children of these skilled aliens.

The following is a list of the registrants in the following countries with the heaviest demands for visas:

Country	ANNUAL QUOTA	1st Pref.	2nd Pref.	3rd Pref.	4th Pref.	Nonpref.	Total
Italy	5,666	2,376	1,904	5,424	131,051	119,806	260,560

Turkey	225	393	241	29	556	17,004	18,223

Many inquiries and much correspondence, as well as execution of affidavits of support to assist the persons to join their relatives in the United States is done when their turns are reached. Our statistics show 1,154 petitions executed and 2,917 affidavits of support.

Of course, many of the affidavits of support are for persons coming from Ireland, England, Canada where there is no quota problem and usually such persons with no language problem have come and become assimilated within a very short time in the United States. We assisted persons in executing petitions to send for children under the Orphan Program. There have been many inquiries about renewal of this law which expires June 30, 1961 and it is hopefully expected that this law is to be renewed shortly, as well as passage of immigration legislation to lessen the long wait of many close relatives in countries of oversubscribed quotas, where so many relatives still wait. It is interesting to note that several mothers, fathers and sisters have finally received exit permits to leave the Iron Curtain countries such as Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania, and have joined their relatives in Massachusetts.

CITIZENSHIP - NATURALIZATION ASSISTANCE

The Annual Federal Report lists 5,146 persons being naturalized in this State in 1960. Our offices assisted 3,099 of such applications throughout the State. On the naturalization of the parents, if their children derive citizenship, it has been the practice of many of the parents to apply for Certificates of Derivative Citizenship for these children immediately. 644 such applicants were assisted during the year. 248 persons found it advantageous to fill applications for Declaration of Intention (first paper) no longer a requirement for naturalization. Among them have been newly arrived immigrants joining the United States Armed Forces, Nurses not yet having the residence requirement for naturalization but who find this Intention of Citizenship a requirement for the State Registration, as well as Doctors seeking license to practice in the Commonwealth.

Our booklet "Questions and Answers in Preparation for the Naturalization Examination" of which we distribute 10,000 yearly has assisted many applicants in preparing for the questions examination for the petition of naturalization. This year we have added the Constitution of the United States upon which so many of the questions at time of naturalization are based and this will make for a fuller understanding of the principles and ideals of our Government.

This year a number of applicants have been able to get back their citizenship rights after appeal to the Board of Review of the Department of State who had previously ruled abroad that citizenship had been lost by service of native born citizens in foreign armies. The several cases we assisted with the appeal involved native born citizens who, as small children, accompanied their parents to the country of the parent's birth. As is usual, when such persons reached the age for compulsory military service, they were drafted into service regardless of their claims to United States Citizenship. These persons had to come to the United States as natives of the countries of this residence and military service. Now with the "Nishikawa" ruling in regard to loss of citizenship whereby the Government has to prove the loss of such citizenship, reversals have been made and citizenship rights restored in several cases.

About 10 applicants for naturalization were philippine born servicemen still in the services of the armed forces. Their naturalization involved first their attaining an arrival record. Enlisting abroad in the Philippines they had come to the United States for their service. On completion of their enlistment, automatically their stay in the United States ended and return to the country of enlistment was compulsory. Now married to United States citizens, they wanted to remain in the United States. Arrangements had to be made and files arranged and appointments given for these cases first to go to Canada, get immigrant visas. Then having an established entry for residence in the United States and because of their usually over five year service in the Navy or Coast Guard, they were able to file and get naturalized on return from Canada with the visa. Not only was the right of permanent residence accorded them, regardless of further service, but United States Citizenship granted also.

LEGISLATION

There have been no new laws enacted in immigration or naturalization by the Congress this year. Many bills have been introduced, but world situations and tensions created in the "Cold War" have the attention of Congress, but it is expected that some legislation will be enacted for orphans and for reunion of families.

COOPERATIVE AGENCY AND CONFERENCE PARTICIPATION

We continue to have many referrals from private agencies for our assistance with technical information on citizenship, immigration and for translation service. Contacts with agencies working with orphans and refugees are mutually beneficial. Participation in conferences of the American Immigration and Citizenship Conference, Conference on Social Integration of Newcomers to the United States, Intergroup Meeting, as well as membership in the Committee to assist the Foreign Born of U.C.S.

and work with the teachers groups teaching aliens English and preparation for naturalization have been part of our program. Our relations with the Federal Service is mutually beneficial. We have helped many students from colleges and high schools with information and materials in their writing of papers in some aspect of immigration or citizenship.

The present state of World Affairs with its Cold Wars, growing unrest, government upheavals have never been so world wide. It has created a problem of refugees which covers not only Europeans and particularly the East Berliners, but in Africa, there are the Algerian and Angolan refugees. In Asia it is the Arab refugees and the many Chinese in Hong Kong area, are all still a problem for a humanitarian world who will have to render assistance and find a solution. No doubt, United States will have to be a haven to many.

A program such as ours "to bring into sympathetic and mutually helpful relations the Commonwealth and its residents of foreign origin" is most important to the foreign born subject more than ever to propaganda from nations hostile to our democratic form of government. Massachusetts will continue to battle this menace.

WORCESTER OFFICE

We performed 5,559 varied services for 3,407 native and foreign born persons from July 1, 1960 to June 30, 1961.

Monthly statistics reveal that about the same number of clients seek our services each month, with the exception of January when our workload is increased over 50%. When the aliens register, many of them realize that they have completed their residence requirements for naturalization, and have been procrastinating with applying during the year. The publicity in the newspapers and over the radio and television concerning the annual address report, reminds many individuals that they have immigration or americanization problems to be taken care of.

A newspaper article, at our suggestion, explaining the simplified naturalization program for aliens over 50 years of age on December 24, 1952 and who had lived in the United States for 20 years, also brought on a surprising number, who should have been citizens many years ago. This group requires moral encouragement in their ability to sign their names and being able to answer a few questions about the government.

This Agent attended the three naturalization hearings at the Superior Court, Worcester, Massachusetts to observe the swearing in ceremonies for the persons whom the Worcester Office assisted. We have filled out as many as 6 derivative applications for one family after the parents received their own certificates.

In February the Agent spoke to the University of Massachusetts Extension Evening Class of the problems of Democracy at the Milford High School on the topic: "The Effects of Immigration on the United States". After the talk, the students asked a multitude of questions concerning the many aspects of immigration on the local and national level.

It is evident that Immigration and Citizenship are still important factors in the Worcester area, the Commonwealth, as well as the rest of the country.

SPRINGFIELD OFFICE

At the close of the fiscal year on June 30, 1961, statistics show that 3,988 services were performed by the Springfield Office. This figure does not record the services given by telephone which are urgently demanded of us. For the past three months of the year, the agent was required to maintain the office alone due to the fact that the clerk had been granted a leave of absence and because of the difficulty encountered trying to obtain a worker willing to accept only temporary employment.

Individuals came to us from forty-nine communities in our area and we had requests for service from fifty-two former residents of the Commonwealth - some now living in other states and abroad.

Of the more than fifty nationalities recorded this year, Canadians were the leading nationality group. They were followed by persons born in Italy, United States, Germany, Great Britain, Ireland, Poland and the British West Indies.

During the year 791 letters were sent to new immigrants destined to our area. Their response and their expression of gratitude for this letter of welcome and offer of assistance in adjusting to their new way of life was most gratifying.

The majority of applications for certificates to prove citizenship were made for children born abroad of American born fathers serving in our armed forces.

We assisted fourteen persons in preparing applications to sponsor children under the Orphans' Act. Persons were aided in adjusting their status to permanent residents with the agent appearing as a representative for one of them before the hearing conducted by the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Boston. Some of these cases required requests for waivers because the individuals were exchange students. We assisted several others in adjusting their non-immigrant status from visitor to student. Many others were helped with their preliminary work to obtain appointments to appear before American Consulates in Canada for the purpose of obtaining immigrant visas. A tremendous number of people showed interest in proposed changes in the Immigration Law especially as it related to change in quotas. These people were advised to contact their members of Congress, as well as their Senators to express their desires for such a change in law.

The District Agent attended the final hearings for naturalization at our local court. He was one of the participants of the "I am an American Night" program sponsored annually by the Springfield School Department. He was invited to bring greetings from the Commonwealth as were Governor Volpe and other local officials.

As the fiscal year came to a close, plans were being made to move our agency and other state agencies in the area to a newly constructed building at 235 Chestnut Street, Springfield. We have been at our present location for the past 20 years. The move to Chestnut Street should prove helpful to all people because it will, for the first time, have all state agencies centrally located. Ample parking facilities for the public have been a talked of feature for the new location.

Our agency continues to enjoy the greatest cooperation of municipal, county, state, federal and private agencies.

LAWRENCE OFFICE

The Lawrence District Office recorded a total of 4,342 services to clients during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961. This represents an increase of 61 services over the previous fiscal year's total of 4,281.

Forty seven percent of the services rendered clients during the last fiscal year were to residents of Lawrence proper, while 23% of this office's total services involved Lowell residents. This latter figure can be attributed to the fact that this Agent is continuing his one day a week visits to Lowell. 51 other cities and towns throughout the Commonwealth shared the remaining 30%.

Almost one quarter of the total services rendered during the last fiscal year involved persons of Italian extraction. Canada had the second largest number and native-born Americans were third. Poland, Greece, Portugal and Syria and Lebanon were also well represented. In all, individuals born in 47 countries were served by the Lawrence Office last year.

One third of this office's total services during the last fiscal year involved the completion of forms and affidavits for clients. The question uppermost in the minds of the majority of our clients dealt with reunion with relatives still abroad. All too frequently, it was our unpleasant task to inform a client that he could not, for example, bring a brother to the United States due to the severe quota restrictions. On the other hand, the thanks expressed by grateful clients who, through our assistance, were reunited with their families always gave us an immense feeling of satisfaction and accomplishment.

All newcomers to this area were welcomed to the United States by a letter from this office offering our assistance with whatever problems they may have regarding immigration or citizenship.

This Agent attended all the naturalization sessions held at the Lawrence Superior Court during the last fiscal year. Approximately 87% of the new citizens naturalized in Lawrence were assisted in the completion of their applications by this office.

We wrote many letters on behalf of clients to government agencies within the United States and to American officials abroad. Another service was the translation, for clients, of documents written in Italian, Arabic, French or German.

Many individuals came to us with personal, social, health or employment problems. All were interviewed and were referred to the proper resources.

Excellent cooperation is continuing between this office and the Lawrence and Lowell newspapers and radio stations. They have printed or announced all items that we submitted to them pertaining to various aspects of the Immigration and Nationality Laws. We are also receiving full cooperation from the several private, city, state and federal agencies in this area.

FALL RIVER OFFICE

The Fall River Office services thirty-five communities in Southeastern Massachusetts with Fall River and New Bedford yielding the bulk of the work. However, there were more than 1,000 clients from other cities and towns in this area.

Total services given by the Fall River Office for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961 was 3,834 as compared to the total of 4,439 for the previous year. The noticeable decrease was applications for naturalization, petitions for issuance of immigration visa and a slight decline in change of status. The major reason for the substantial decrease in applications for naturalization appears that a large amount of newcomers who came under Public Law 86-363 are not yet eligible for naturalization.

A total of 1,191 newcomer letters were sent out in this southeastern district. The newcomer letter which is mailed to immigrants is not recorded in our statistics. Only those who call or write to us for information is recorded in these statistics. One can easily see that if these newcomer letters were recorded our services would exceed more than 5,000 during the fiscal year.

As usual, Fall River leads the list of clients served with the City of New Bedford ranking second. The District Agent visits New Bedford one day a week and usually encounters a heavy workload for that single day. Since the closing of the Federal Office in New Bedford in 1955, numerous technical problems arise and are brought to us for decision. This office also has assisted in being a guidance to the newcomer and alien with reference to adult education, social security, obtaining birth, marriage and death records, adoptions and public welfare service.

While services appear to be somewhat smaller than the past fiscal year, it must be remembered that no new immigration legislation was in effect. However, the problems in this area are just as technical and acute as they ever were due to the nationality makeup, namely Portuguese, who have a small quota of 438 per annum. The statistics of immigration quotas are closely scrutinized in order that the alien's family may be united under second, third or fourth preference as soon as possible.

Pending legislation has as eagerly hoped for, many of the clients who as non-citizens await reunion with their spouses or children awaiting third preference category visas. The impact of these third preference applications shows they were approximately $7\frac{1}{2}$ years behind on the quota waiting list.

With the everchanging times, the office of the Division is unquestionably a necessary service for the citizens and the residents of this area.
